NEW PROGRAM SPOTLIGHT

Howard's Department of Parks, Recreation & Senior Services is continually striving to provide quality, exciting programs to its residents. This winter season, the department is offering a new kind of recreation program. Instructor Ruth Fett, a child development consultant, is teaching 2 active and educational classes. The first is called Active Learning for Littles, where pre-schoolers (ages 3-5) will have the chance to sing, dance, read and play while "secretly" learning social skills. The second is geared toward the stay at home parent, and is called Home & Happy. Parents are invited to network with other parents and learn different parenting strategies in this interactive class. Both classes start Wednesday, January 14. Daytime and evening class options available. Additional information can be found at villageofhoward.com/rec_senior.cfm or by calling 434-4640.

The mission of the Village of Howard, Wisconsin is to "provide its residents and businesses with quality services performed in a modern, courteous, cost-effective and efficient manner". For more information about the Village of Howard, please call 920/434-4640 or visit the village's web page at www.villageofhoward.com.
